

Logbook Audits

Does your current maintenance tracking system provide you with an accurate depiction of your maintenance records and logbooks?

If you answered No, or are not sure, you are not alone. It is a surprising fact that there can be a significant disconnect between what your physical records say the status of your airplane is versus what a maintenance tracking system may show. Unfortunately these unpleasant surprises often surface during a sales transaction when the pre-purchase evaluation of the maintenance records takes place.

"When it comes to the FAA, or maintaining the resale value of your aircraft, it's what's in your logbooks that matters"

Let Avtrak help. Avtrak's Compliance Specialists (AP/IA) are trained to perform detailed record audits against the most current regulatory compliance standards, and report on the findings. Avtrak represents an unbiased 3rd party, outside of the sales transaction, that provides a clear picture of the compliance status of the aircraft - as documented in the maintenance records. Our Compliance Specialists have exclusive access to Avtrak's library of current maintenance and inspection programs for more than 90 different makes and models. Your audit is always against the most current source of regulatory compliance data from the aircraft/engine manufacturer and the FAA, including service bulletins and AD's applicable to the aircraft.

Once the audit is complete, you will have the option to easily maintain the synchronization between your tracking system and logbooks by subscribing to Avtrak's GlobalNet™ service. The results of your audit are automatically entered into the GlobalNet™ service, at no extra charge, and are available immediately for on-going tracking.

- If you are buying an aircraft - there is no better way to really know the compliance status of the aircraft you are considering. Our analysts will work closely with your broker and maintenance staff during the audit process. Any issues that are uncovered can be addressed during the transaction - before it's too late.
- If you are selling an aircraft - be prepared! An Avtrak audit before placing the aircraft on the market will give you the peace of mind in really knowing the exact status of your aircraft. An audit will avoid any last minute surprises during the pre-buy and give you the opportunity to correct or address any issues that result from the audit at your discretion and time frame.
- If you are operating an aircraft - and really don't know what the compliance status of your aircraft is, or how well your tracking service is keeping up, then it's time for an Avtrak audit. An Avtrak audit will quickly help you to understand what the true compliance status of your aircraft is along with what you will need to do to get back on track. Once you're back on track we suggest you consider upgrading your tracking service to Avtrak GlobalNet™.

Consulting Services

Joe Hertzler

Since 1996, Avtrak provides repair stations and air charter operations with auditing, consultation and on-site representation during FAA inspections. Avtrak Inc. is a name you can trust, backed by over 30 years of industry expertise in FAA requirements and quality assurance applicable to aircraft maintenance. Combining core competencies in FAA regulations, aircraft maintenance and electronic database management, Avtrak can be an invaluable partner for you to work with to make your operation the best it can be.